Nine Candidates File In Race For City Commission

Candidate List Includes Two Incumbents: One Doesn't Seek Re-election

At the deadline 4:30 Tuesday, nine candidates had filed to compete for the election of three city commissioners in the general election on September 11, according to City Clerk Frank Anderson. A general referendum on special act granting the city additional powers will also be up for vote at the election.

Candidates include: Northborough, Julius T. Harris, incumbent; W. K. Whitlock and H. O. Carlson; Westborough, Herman Close and O. F. Thomas; Central Borough, W. L. Collins, incumbent; Cliff Livingston, A. J. Richmond and E. N. Price. Sanitary Department commissioner whose term expires, will not seek re-election.

Registration books, which record about 1,200 voters, will be open in the city clerk's office in the city hall until 5 p. m. September 1, Anderson said.

The special empowering act grants the city power to own, operate, or lease public utilities; to regulate and control by ordinance loading and unloading of vehicles; to issue regulations governing trailer and tourist camps; to regulate docks and warps located on city owned property.

Also included are the rights to issue occupational licenses; to provide for revenue rates or rates of any city owned utility and to charge for collection of garbage and waste and to provide for the operation of a bus transportation system by owning or leasing to other persons.

He related to me his idea which he asked me not to communicate to the outside world. He promised that indeed I wouldn't outside of my weekly news columns. He agreed that he would be as bright as he said nobody would read it there. Needless to say, he lost his vote pronto.

He said that mosquitoes offer a serious menace to the growth of the city.

GLADES FARMERS ASKED TO LIST CULTIVATED LANDS IN FMA PROGRAM

Dow Geiger, senior field officer for the Production and Marketing Administration, asked Glades farmers this week to list the fields they have under cultivation to enable him to locate them on an aerial photograph.

He emphasized that this applies to all farmers signed up with the PMA's soil conservation program but said that he would like to have an account from all the farmers for informational purposes.

Geiger is currently located in the office of H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, in the Sanders Building.

BILLY BURKE

City's Largest Representation On University of Florida Gator Team Leaves For Training Next Week

Local citizens probably will be following the schedule of the University of Florida's "Fighting Gator" football team closely this fall, for the city boasts its big representation on the big team included senior player, Captain Carroll McDonald.

The other four local boys—Ross Winnie, Billy Burke, Lee Leavitt and Alvin Leathers—will be in the freshmen squad but were veteran players on the Belle Glade High School football team.

They will leave the first of the week and training will start at the University September 1. But training for the local boys has been going on all summer on the high school field under the direction of Captain McDonald.

Last year the comment on the team given in the county was that the Glades made a produced plenty of football beef. As shown by the four football scholars, college training rules and college regulations. Therefore, even if they are injured in their first game or practice and are unable to play a further football game, college training is assured.

Three of the local scholarship holders plan to major in physical education and Ross Winnie will study chemical engineering.

Captain Carroll McDonald, who has played on the Gator team for three years, is the only team member who can talk to the officials in his captain's capacity. He will meet with the opposing team captain at the beginning of each game to determine which team gets the ball.

Alvin Leathers who has a record of four years on the Rams, played full back. He gained four letters in football, three in basketball and three in baseball. Included in his football honors were selection on Little All State (second string) in his junior and senior years. All Conference Team for two years, All American High School team (honorary) in his senior year.

STREET DEPT. ON LAST PHASE OF YEARS WORK

The Street Department is working on the final stages of its program for the fiscal year, according to Mayor W. F. Criden, who is serving as street commissioner in the absence of Junius Harris.

Tom Pennington, department superintendent, said workers are preparing streets in Northwood Gardens for surfacing.

Rainy weather recently has hampered the work and caused the operations to be behind schedule.

SANITARY DEPT. TO CUT SERVICE FOR TEN DAYS

The Sanitary Department is cutting down on service for about ten days due to the rehauling of trucks in preparation for the winter season. City Inspector N. B. Willis said this week.

Three of the department trucks are being repaired and will be out of use for this period, Willis stated.

City Jail To Be Completed Within Several Weeks

Workers were pouring the roof on the new second floor addition to the city jail this week. Construction observation should be completed within several weeks and the second floor ready for occupancy, according to City Inspector N. B. Willis.

Renovation and construction were originally estimated to cost about $15,000 but actual construction costs will be about $10,000, Willis said.

By utilizing prisoners for the unskilled labor, the city was able to save approximately $2,000 on the construction cost, Willis said.

According to Mayor W. F. Criden, it is hoped that the city hall will be repaired at the same time the jail is with the money saved on the construction.

The concrete and steel, fireproof addition which was under construction this summer, will be completed in a few additional story, Willis reported.

The jail is now large enough to hold all the prisoners in the building. A new feature includes a ramp connecting the jail with the court room on the second floor of the city hall.

The jailer now resides next to the jail in the residence vacated by the former Assistant Fire Chief Bob Barr.

RUBIN BEGINS STREET WORK IN LABOR CAMPS

Rubin Construction Co., low bidder on the road contract for Ocoee and Okechobee Farm Labor Supply Camps, began work here Wednesday, according to Emmett Roberts, director of the Belle Glade Housing Authority.

The company will work in both camps off and on, Roberts stated.

FARMERS TEND TO FOLLOW PATTERN OF YEAR BEFORE

H. L. Speer, assistant county agent, said that farmers usually follow the trend of repeating the crops which "paid off" the year before and that so far this year he hadn't even contracted a full acre load.

Judging by this theory, Speer said, the early cabbage crop may be considerably larger than that of last year.

Cattlemen learned by the cold winter last year which brought a serious lack of good grazing pastures to plan for winter grasses. Judging by the pastures which are being planted in Kentucky Bluegrass and other winter grasses, the cattlemen are planning, there should be more good grazing land in the Glades during the season this year, he stated.

City Installs 1st Phase Of Overall Drainage Program

Pump and Power Unit To Drain Northwood Gardens Section

Recent installation of drainage facilities in the city should minimize the results of a hurricane which might strike the area.

Although this is primarily a farming community where residents are familiar with pumping and drainage operations in the fields, five years of fruit trees have passed before action has been taken to drain "our front yards." But the first phase of a city-wide drainage program has been accomplished, according to Mayor W. F. Criden.

The city has acquired and installed a pump in the Northwood Gardens section. It has been reworked and is accompanied by a power unit in immediate operation in case of rising waters in the area, the Mayor said. The pump should aid in draining the section from the packing house district on the west to the Pahokee Road on the east, and the county road to the north side.

According to Col. W. C. Young, Ram Cross disaster chairman here, the drainage facilities should materially aid in reducing the panic which rising water causes here.

He stated that the emergency organization of committees stands ready to go into action on a minutes notice. Junius Harris assists Col. Young as vice chairman of the committee.

PAR-THE LINE

The second application of spray was applied to the Municipal Golf Course this week for eradicating clump grass, according to Pro Joe Ziemann.

More spraying is necessary to complete the treatment, he said.

How Long, Mr. McKethan

Glades residents are beginning to wonder how long the State Road Department plans to wait before rebuilding the death trap at the Six Mile Bend bridge. They also wonder how many more lives must be sacrificed at the danger point and how many more dollars in damages will almost literally be swallowed up by the cost of the 90 degree turn and the one way bridge.

(As the accident and fatality toll mounted at the treacherous mile last spring, local groups and citizens voiced strenuous appeals to the governor and the State Road Department asking that something be done to correct this most dangerous highway hazard in the state.

Representative John E. Bollinger took up the movement carrying the project to the governor. Shortly after this action, Alfred A. McKethan, chairman of the State Road Department, advised Rep. Bollinger that the 1951 budget included funds for the rebuilding of this bridge in addition to several others in this vicinity.

But time has passed, precious time, precious in the terms of lives and money. During the intervening period more accidents have occurred at the site even though this period has been during the less active summer months.

How much more will the trap demand in the winter months ahead when traffic over federal highway 441 will swell with many tourists? Wondering about this question, Mr. Henry O. Earwood, president of the 441 Highway Association, wrote Mr. McKethan a letter last week reminding him of his promise that a connection at Six Mile Bend was forth coming.

Meanwhile, the Governor's Highway Safety committee plans its third annual conference September 27 and 28 in Miami. Plans and expensive publicity from state agencies continue campaign about safety on the highways in an effort to cut down on Florida's mounting highway death rate.

And meanwhile we are wondering how long, Mr. McKethan, do we have to wait for a project which should top the emergency list, and how much more Six Mile Bend will collect in lives and property before some changes are made.

DEAD AND CRIPPLED ANIMALS RESULT IN BIG MARKET LOSSES

How many crippled, bruised and dead animals did you send to market in the past 12 months?

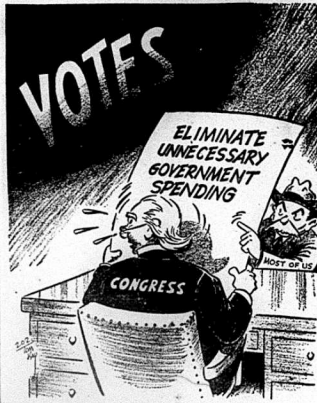

Dr. O. F. Goen, animal husbandman with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service and chairman of the Florida Livestock Loss Prevention Committee, says if you sent any at all you shortchanged some possible consumers some good food.

He points out that enough cattle, calves, hogs and sheep to feed 200,000 persons for a year were dead or crippled on arrival at markets in this country last year.

But such losses do not have to be sustained year after year, he says, and adds that better cure in handling live-stock pays all hands. He lists some of the things producers and handlers can do to reduce losses:

Avoid feeding animals too heavily before shipping; provide a good loading chute at the farm; provide good footing in the truck-use sand or gravel under straw; Do not use straw for beds in hot weather. Use partitions in trucks to separate large and small animals.

Cover trucks to protect animals against the sun in hot weather.

TWO LOCAL FIREMEN ATTEND FIRE COLLEGE

Charlie Capps, local fireman, left Sunday to attend the Florida State Fire College Ocala for a week course. He is studying fire streams, according to Fire Chief Lawrence W. Cee.

Cee, Earl, acting assistant fire chief, will attend the college for a week beginning September 3 when he will take a course on leadership. The fireman are being sent to the college by the department.

SHOOTIN' BLANKS (Continued from Page 1) ing cattle industry here. "To boot," he said, "they are cruel to all animals including you and me. Now, when I was down the country a piece, I considered a duster about this problem."

"The duster told me that he had sprayed several pastures for about three days but still the mosquitoes had their nightly most banquets. It seems that the pests all congregated on the stomachs and under portions of the animals."

"But the duster said that the animals there had a high intelligence quotient and that the following week when he dusted they were all lying on their backs with their four legs pointed to the moon."

"Now this gave me an idea," the politician confessed. "I think I shall run on the platform that if elected I shall have the city install a spraying device which circulates the dust in a rotary current. This should save the cows the trouble of turning over and also take care of those which don't have sense enough to do so."

Quotation of the week: "Old politicians never die; they just run one too often."

Mrs. America Contestants Will Be Judged Saturday

Married glamour will come into its own Saturday at Sand-lan-don Springs when approximately 20 hand-picked married women will vie for the opportunity to represent North and Central Florida in the National "Mrs. America" contest held annually at Asbury Park, N. J. Eliminations have been conducted by photographs and by two local contests in St. Petersburg and Palm Beach county, according to Raul L. Reyes, Springs manager.

The contest will be conducted beginning at 1 p. m. at Sand-lan-don Springs, the central Florida recreation area midway between Orlando and Sanford. A team of five judges, headed by Beverly Grizzard, Leesburg business man and acting chairman of the State Advertising Commission, will make the choice. In addition to the contest, a watershow will be staged.

The "Mrs. America" finals will be at Asbury Park on September 9 and the winner of the "Mrs. Sand-lan-don Springs" contest will be flown to Asbury Park for the occasion. As part of the $7,500 in prizes which will be awarded in the 13th annual contest, "Mrs. America" of 1951 will receive a four-week all-expense tour of Eastern cities meeting national personalities. Immediately after the finals, whoever is chosen will be flown to Reading, Pa., where she will be honored for a week at the Reading Fair. Then, from September 18 through September 20 she will appear at the Allentown (Pa.) Fair and while there will receive the coveted "Mrs. America" trophy. From September 23 to September 29 she will be the guest of the New Jersey State Fair, the country's oldest exposition, in Trenton, where she will reign in the Domestic Science Building. October 1 through October 6 will find "Mrs. America" in Boston, where she will be featured at the New England Food Exposition at the Boston Gardens, where she is scheduled to meet the Governor of Massachusetts.

Scheduled for participation in the contest are: Mrs. Miriam Eubank, New Smyrna Beach; Mrs. Janice Lauren, West Palm Beach; Mrs. Gladys Hargraves, West Palm Beach; Mrs. Carol Lee, Tampa; Mrs. Dolly Cheat-ham, Mt. Dora; Mrs. Marcel Huffman, Lockhart; Mrs. Mona Mac Huffman, Lockhart; Mrs. Betty Nickles, St. Petersburg; Mrs. Jan Johnson, Gulfport; Mrs. Lorna Krueger, St. Petersburg; Mrs. Mary Everidge, Plant City; Mrs. Frances Saxon, Tampa; Mrs. Peggy Creel, St. Petersburg; Mrs. T. J. Kingene, Tampa; Mrs. Katherine McGuire, Plant City; Mrs. Tilla Robbins, Pensacola; Mrs. Sara Frywald, Shalimar; Mrs. Ellen Hull, Orlando.

Dates for the public sale of tickets for the Orange Bowl finals and the parade will be announced shortly. No admission is charged for other contests which get under way Sunday, Oct. 14, with the Initiation Team Event in the Miami Elks Lodge. Navy Post of Chicago will defend its title won in the first contest last year.

Slated for 1 p. m. the same day is the National Band Contest at Bayfront Park and the Junior Drum and Bugle Corps competition in the Orange Bowl. At 2 p. m., in Miami Beach Senior High School, Sioux Falls (S. Dak.) Post will attempt to retain its National Chorus crown.

As defending champion, the 90-piece Harwood Post of Joliet, Ill., is expecting keen competition from another outfit of the same size, Blatz Post of Milwaukee. The Joliet aggregation started as a high school band.

The Greater Miami Boy's Drum and Bugle Corps is among groups out to wrest the National Junior Title from the of seven 1951 national titles and the 10 finalists in this year's Senior Drum and Bugle Corps contest the evening of Oct. 15 in the Orange Bowl.

The $5,000,000 designation is based on the cost of the corps uniforms, instruments, travel and other expenses, it was explained by J. Earl McCurdy, National Contest Chairman.

"Each Drum Corps spends a great deal more than the $1-250 top prize money to prepare and compete in the National meet," he said during a final inspection of contest sites. Preliminary eliminations will be run off during the day. All contestants must participate in the National Legion parade.

The Raymond A. Garbarina "Skyliners", Post 153, New York, will attempt to win its third straight title, a feat so far unprecedented.

McCurdy, with L. C. Baker, Chicago; Norton R. Ganger, Miami, committee members and Don White, Indianapolis Secretary, conferred with Roby Wetmore, Miami Contest Committee Chairman.

Wetmore informed them that although the off-time Champion, Harvey Seeds Post of Miami was eligible to compete this year, The Miamians instead will act as hosts to visiting corps, providing 24 hour valet and other special services for them.

"March of Champions" Billed as $5,000,000 Show

This year's "March of Champions" at the 33rd annual National Convention of the American Legion, Oct. 15 to 18 is billed as a $5,000,000 show. It will present the winners

PARIS-INSPIRED STYLES AND COLORS DRAMATIC IN NEW FALL COATS AND SUITS

The three-piece suit, the pencil skirt and shirt with a torso jacket and the pyramid coat, these are the styles by Betty Rose, will dominate Milady's wardrobe this fall. More vivid colors than usual for fall will be seen in both coats and suits. It will be the pyramid for fashion in coats again. The pyramid is modified, with the fullness coming from the sides, rather than from the back, and the hemline sweep is lessened. But the basic silhouette is that of a long, full coat, aimed at the shoulders rather than at the hemline. Shoulders are a real style story this year, sloping, ruffled, saddle. Sleeves of all types combine with collar, pocket and button, adding to give coats a new look. A sprinkling of novelties, such as the three-piece suit shown here, will brighten the style picture, and the short coat will be more popular than ever this fall and winter. It is liked for its contrast, effectiveness in textured fabrics and because it is less expensive. The suit silhouette is slim, highlighted by interest in detail, such as insets of fabric, novelty buttons and jewel trim. The average length of the torso or sheath jacket is 32 inches.

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By Russell Kay

I've heard a lot of crooked lousy racket in my time, but MIAMI BUSINESS, official publication of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, records one in its last issue that ought to be labeled "the racket to end all rackets."

It happened in Baltimore but it could just as well have been staged in Florida. From the standpoint of pure lowdown cunningness it is on par with gyping widows and opening up stealing pennies from a blind man's cup.

One D. H. Mayer placed what appeared to be a perfectly legitimate classified advertisement in a Baltimore paper which stated that carpenters were needed for a big defense job in Kentucky, excellent working conditions and good pay. Applicants were instructed to apply at a certain room in a downtown hotel.

As applicants arrived, and plenty came, they were told to wait and they would be interviewed shortly. When about 25 had gathered, a smiling gentleman explained that it was necessary for them to undergo a physical examination and they were escorted into another room and told to remove their clothes. After disrobing they were taken to still another room where the physical was supposed to occur. The nice young man who had escorted them stepped out to call the doctor. They waited and waited and waited but nothing happened. Finally one of the applicants tried the door leading to the room where they had left their clothes. The clothes were still there but when they examined them they found that their wallets and valuables had been removed. Mr. Mayer had departed and left no trace.

Somewhere, some day, one of these 25 applicants is going to run into Mr. Mayer again and I'm betting that when this happens, Brother Mayer will wish he was somebody else.

It frequently happens that crooks who think up stunts like this, use their ill-gotten gains to enjoy a vacation in Florida and that's why Miami Business and this column is publicizing the affair. Publicity is the surest way of putting an end to this kind of a racket. Florida newspapers, receiving an ad of this nature should do some checking and report the matter to local law enforcement officers. It is legitimate, the advertiser should not be protected and readers would be protected.

Another racket more often encountered by the average business man is the telephone solicitation. High pressure boys come into a community, approach some local civic group or organization and offer to help them raise funds for some local charity. They are smooth operators and explain that they do all the work and all they want is the endorsement of the Kiwanis, Rotary or whatever group they contact with. Just as they get the endorsement, they take all the credit and it is all for nothing.

Once they get the backing of an organization they go to work on the phone. Just about every business man in town receives a call. He is informed that President So and So, of the club, is asking them for a small donation; maybe it's the purchase of a block of tickets to a so-called benefit or an out-and-out contribution to the Crippled Children's Fund. All he has to do is just write out the check and someone will come right over and pick it up. Sometimes, after deducting expenses, a small percentage of the funds collected are actually turned over to the local club. In other cases, the solicitors gather in all the cash they can and then disappear. I learned a long time ago that it was smart to turn down all telephone solicitations. When I am charitably inclined, I know a lot of worthy places where I can make a contribution that is in the up-and-up and I don't have to waste any time passing out money to strangers who call me on the telephone.

Don't get me wrong—I have no quarrel with any honest, legitimate effort to raise funds for a worthy cause, but I hate to see slick promoters take respectable people and organizations to ride.

It takes only a moment or

THE RING NECKED SNAKE

The little ring-necked snake is very common but is seldom seen, for it hides beneath stones, logs, and dead leaves. Most specimens are less than a foot in length. The back is dark brown or black, while the belly is orange, shading to red under the tail. When disturbed, the ring-necked snake twists the tail into a spiral, showing the red under side. This act may serve to frighten off some enemies. It is completely harmless, and is sometimes eaten by birds, just as though it were a worm.

Two to check on these solicitations and make sure they are all right. If the guy or gal on the phone is overly insistent, wants action in a hurry and attempts to strong-arm you, it is a pretty good sign that you are being milked. DON'T BE A SUCKER.

COUNTY TO GET MORE MOSQUITO CONTROL

Establishment of a state-wide bureau to more effectively carry out control of mosquitoes and sand flies in Florida, was proposed this week by County Commission Chairman Paul Rardin.

Rardin made his proposal Monday at the regular meeting of the County Commission and his plan was quickly adopted by the board. The group voted to immediately get the plan underway with the hope that the bureau could be established by the 1953 legislative session. Chairman Rardin said that several state wide bureaus such as fire control and forestry service are already organized and are carrying out an effective plan of coordinating their activities on a state-wide basis. More effective, he said, would be a Florida mosquito control unit that could coordinate its activities throughout the state instead of spotty control that is now being carried out by only a few counties which have mosquito control units. Palm Beach County is one of those in South Florida that has a county mosquito control unit. Rardin said the county group can control the pests within their area, but its mosquitoes from outside uncontrolled areas that are causing the trouble here.

With state wide control, he said, the bureau would be most effective and could probably share in federal money that is set aside for this type of work. "I feel that it should be an overall proposition by state and federal government," Rardin said. His suggestion was backed strongly by Commissioner Lake. Rardin said to gain the best mosquito control, the work must be accomplished on a wide scale.

In addition to backing Rardin's proposal for a state wide bureau, the commission also authorized their chairman to present the proposal to the State Association of County Commissioners. Rardin hopes the state group and he expressed confidence that the idea would meet favorably with the state directors.

Commissioner John Prince said that proposal of a state-wide organization did not mean any means deter from the work that is being done by county unit headed by E. L. Seabrook. Prince said the work of the Palm Beach County unit has been most effective in local control but that much of the recent mosquito trouble has been caused by pests that have infiltrated defense lines in this area from outside county boundaries.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

I wish to again caution veterans who contemplate selling their homes which were purchased with GI loans, that their personal liability in the repayment of the loans on such property will continue until such loans are paid in full. The regulations under the Act provide in part as follows: The conveyance of, or other transfer of title to property by operation of law or otherwise, after the creation of a lien thereon to secure a loan which is guaranteed or insured in whole or in part by the Veterans Administration, shall not constitute an event of default, elective or otherwise. . . . Thus the veteran is far to sell the property subject to the loan, but regulations further provide that the lender cannot release him from personal liability without losing its guaranty. It is clear that a veteran may find himself in trouble at some present mosquito situation as a nuisance rather than a threat to public health," Mulrennan continued. But even so, a nuisance is a nuisance, and the lack of control that breeds this nuisance might give the malaria mosquito a chance to make a comeback. Florida cannot afford to have that happen."

Mulrennan added that many of the state's already existing mosquito control districts were "doing a fine job in handling an admittedly difficult situation." But he added that Florida has only 19 mosquito control programs established, which he termed "insufficient" to do a really effective job of statewide mosquito control.

Weather was a factor in producing this year's crop of nuisance mosquitoes. In many areas, a relatively dry winter and spring killed off minnows which normally eat many of the mosquito larvae, thus removing one of the natural factors which tend to limit the mosquito crop.

BETTER RURAL HEALTH TO BE SLOGAN OF JOINT MEDICAL PROGRAM

Better health for rural communities might well be the slogan of a joint program announced recently by David R.

Murphy, Jr., M. D., prominent Tampa surgeon and president of the Florida Medical Association, and H. G. Clayton, of Gainesville, director of Cooperative Extension Work in Agriculture and Home Economics for the state of Florida.

Speaking for more than 2,000 doctors who are members of the association, Dr. Murphy said the primary aim of the program would be to aid in the possible solution of health problems in the rural communities through the joint efforts of farmers, their wives and their family doctors. This work is to supplement other programs now being carried on by other groups, he pointed out.

Mr. Clayton explained that proposed initial steps called for an educational campaign to be carried on through county and home demonstration agents. This is a necessity, he said, because health problems cannot be solved by doctors alone; they must have whole-hearted support from all farmers.

Groundwork for the cooperative program was completed at a meeting here. Attending in addition to Dr. Murphy and Mr. Clayton were Miss Anna Mae Sikes, state home demonstration agent, of Tallahassee, and Eugene B. Maxwell, M. D., of Tampa, chairman of the Florida Medical Association's Public Relations Committee.

Dr. Murphy emphasized that no part of the program was intended as an invasion upon health activities now being carried on in communities by other groups. Instead, he said, it is more or less an invitation from the Florida Medical Association offering its assistance when needed.

Mr. Clayton called upon farm community leaders to take advantage of the assistance offered by Dr. Murphy. He said it was gratifying to know that the doctors in Florida had seen fit to join their forces in such an undertaking.

New Process Saves Rubber

REVOLUTIONARY RUBBER PROCESS: G. H. Swart (left), head of the General Tire and Rubber Company's research staff, developed the company's revolutionary process for the manufacture of new process rubber. The process involves the use of a new chemical, known as the "new process" rubber, which is made from a mixture of natural rubber and a synthetic material. The process is described as a "new process" because it is a significant improvement over the traditional method of making rubber, which involves the use of a large amount of sulfur and a long curing time.

Blue crabs live in salt water, but one got lost recently and came up in the fresh water of the Santa Fe River at O'Leary State Park, near High Springs, after an adventurous journey inland from the coast.

A 12-year-old boy, playing under the swinging bridge, saw a blue crab crawling freely and dazedly out of the river. It was a large blue crab, more than five inches across, with all pincers intact.

The boy scooped the crab into a bucket and took it to Park Superintendent Carlos Maxwell who figured the crab was fifty miles from its native salt water habitat, nine miles of which had been traveled underground because the Santa Fe river disappears that many miles en route to the Suwannee river which flows into the Gulf of Mexico.

Also, the crab had climbed up a powerful freshwater because the Santa Fe river cascades downward when it vanishes into the earth. Once the blue crab got rested up, Maxwell turned it free back into the Santa Fe river, positive that it could find its way back to the salty deep.

NEW COMMISSION TO OFFER IMPROVEMENT OVER HOTEL COMMISSION

Service of the reorganized Florida Hotel and Restaurant Commission to the state and the industries it serves should show marked improvement over the old State Hotel Commission.

Reorganized for the first time in 33 years by legislative action, not only was the name of the commission changed but provisions were made for a strong advisory council to consult with the state agency and advise the needs and wishes of the industry, as in general work toward closer cooperation.

State Commander

Named on this advisory council were Sterling Botsford, St. Petersburg, president of the Florida Hotel Association; Vic Wilcox of Vero Beach, president of the Florida Restaurant Association; M. E. Welmer of New Smyrna Beach, president of the Florida Motor Court Association; Peter Stein, Jr., of St. Petersburg, president of the Florida Apartment House Association, and former Governor Doyle Carlton, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce.

James T. Landon remains as State Commissioner and W. A. Weatherford continues as his chief deputy.

They Like it a Million!

Last week Buick set a proud record. The millionth Dynaflow Drive* was delivered to a happy owner.

"The biggest advance since the self-starter" is what the motorwise press called this Buick development back in 1948—and now a million owners can tell you how right that proved to be.

Here, they found, was a basically different way of delivering power. It was the first drive to get completely away from any gears which function in a series of fixed stages—the first to apply supercharging principle that did new tricks with spinning oil.

And how folks loved it!

They loved the freedom from strain in traffic. And the new "sweetness" of ride which every passenger could enjoy.

They loved the command it gives them of every traffic situation—and the relaxation it contributes to a long day's drive.

They loved its extra safety in slippery going, and the improved control in mud and snow.

As they piled up experience, they loved the unexpected savings of rear tire wear and the reduced strain on all driving parts, from engine to differential.

And finally—they loved what it does for the value of a Buick, as reflected in the extra dollars that Dynaflow* adds to the resale price of a car.

Have you sampled this driving sensation?

There's no time like the present for discovering the thrills that more than a million Buick owners already know.

FARM CONSERVATION
PRACTICES GREATLY
INCREASED IN 1950

Florida farmers during 1950 set an all-time record in clearing land for pasture and exceeded their 1949 figures in most conservation practices, it is revealed in a report on the year's activities just released by R. S. Dennis, state executive officer with the Production and Marketing Administration.

The PMA officer says 24,711 farmers participated in the conservation program during 1950 and received gross payments totaling $2,501,999. He adds that farmers spent of their own money in carrying out conservation practices. The program covered 13,077,487 acres.

His report shows that farmers cleared 70,881 acres of pasture land last year, an increase of 43,767 acres or 163 percent over the 28,814 acres cleared the year before. They also sprigged, seeded or reseeded 237,301 acres, up 90 percent, and chopped or mowed 373,262 acres, up 19 percent more than in 1949.

His report also reveals that Florida farmers in 1950 applied 42 percent more lime materials, 9 percent more phosphate, 15 percent more rock phosphate, 15 percent more superphosphate, and 94 percent more potash, as well as around 20 percent more minor elements. They planted 28 percent more land in forest trees. There were small decreases in cover crops of legumes and small grains, largely because seed were scarce, in hairy indigo planted, and in terraces constructed.

Florida Farm Products
Have Cash Sales Increase

The last five years have brought a 21% increase in cash sales of all Florida farm products, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday.

In 1946 Florida farmers and fruit and vegetable growers sold their crops for a total of $413,071,000. Increased production and greater values pushed the total to $498,335,000 in 1950, the highest annual farm income on record. The comparable national increase was 17%.

In addition to cash receipts, Florida farmers and growers consumed $522,448,000 of their own products in 1950, and virtually the same in 1946.

This year's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division, lists the increase in receipts from livestock and livestock products as $27 million (34%) from 1946 to 1950. The sale of cattle and calves accounted for $17 million of this increased livestock income.

All field, fruit and vegetable crops brought $58 million (17%) more in 1950 than in 1946, increased citrus receipts being primarily responsible for this gain and offsetting a decline in truck crop sales.

WISE CATTLEMEN IS WORKING TO PROVIDE
FEED DURING WINTER

How is the winter feed program coming along?

That's a question every cattlemen in Florida may well ask himself at this time, for winter feed undoubtedly is one of the biggest problems of Florida's livestock industry. As winter feed cannot be produced nor obtained overnight, it is highly important to make provisions for it well in advance of the time when it will be needed, and the cool season is not many weeks away.

Whether it's "reserved" pasture, temporary pasture, hay, protein supplements, or other feed to be used in winter, it requires planning, time, labor, and expense, but it's necessary if the herd is to continue in good health and weight during the cool months of the year. The results justify effort and expense in the matter.

If cows are not provided with temporary pasture, protein supplements, and other such feeds during the winter, they are almost certain to lose weight—weight which they have put on in the spring and summer and weight which they will have to regain next spring before they begin putting on additional weight. Thus, when a cow loses weight in winter, the feed that enabled her to put on that weight has been wasted. In addition to this, there is the possibility that the cow that does not get adequate feed during winter will not survive or will produce a weak calf or will be unable to produce enough milk for the calf next spring and summer.

Now's the time to fertilize pasture for strong late summer growth, to take stock off some portions of pasture so it will be in good growth for fall, to store hay, to move pastures that are out-growing the grazing of the cattle on them, to make arrangements for protein supplements and other such feeds, and to make other efforts to provide winter feed for stock. The wise cattlemen will endeavor to provide such feed for his animals, as he knows that cattle that lose excessive amounts of weight in winter also lose money for him the price of feed is lower than the price of meat lost in this way, and will not fare as well as those which get feed in addition to sparse grazing.

PASTURE PLANTINGS
IN 1950 SET RECORD
PMA OFFICIAL SAYS

A record-breaking 235,212 acres of improved permanent pasture were established in Florida under the Agricultural Conservation program in 1950, according to R. S. Dennis, state executive officer with the Production and Marketing Administration.

It was the largest acreage of improved pasture established in any year since pasture improvement was incorporated into the program in 1936, and it brought the total acreage for the 15-year period to 1,042,652 acres.

Thus, Florida farmers and cattlemen have received financial assistance from the program in planting Bahia, Pangola, Bermuda, carpet, and other grasses and clovers and other legumes for grazing on 1,042,652 acres during the past decade and a half.

While some improved permanent pasture has been planted during the period without assistance from the federal government, most permanent pasture plantings have been made under the program, Mr. Dennis reported.

In 1936, the first year pasture work was included in the ACP, 1,635 acres were prepared and planted to permanent pasture grasses, and the annual improved pasture acreage has grown by leaps and bounds since, reaching an all-time high last year.

In addition to the new improved permanent pasture acreage established since 1936, 209,941 acres have been reseeded to improve pasture crops, the PMA official explained.

The establishment of the 1,042,652 acres of improved permanent pasture has been accomplished with the financial assistance of the federal government (which amounted to about 25% of the out-of-pocket cost), expenditure of large sums of money by farmers and cattlemen, use of special equipment developed by farm machinery manufacturers for land preparation and planting, and with the cooperation of the Agricultural Experiment Stations and Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Florida, the Soil Conservation Service, Vocational Agriculture teachers, Farmers Home Administration, and other agencies, Mr. Dennis said.

Majority Traffic Casualties
Occur in Fla. Rural Areas

Fifty-nine persons, forty-one of them in rural areas, were killed in Florida traffic accidents during July, reports received at State Highway Patrol headquarters revealed today.

The Patrol's report said that four counties have had no fatal accidents so far this year. They are Gilchrist, Lafayette, Oklawaha, and Suwannee.

Only two of the eight pedestrian deaths in July were in rural accidents.

The Patrol's report said that Duval county, with twelve fatalities, led the state in such deaths. Dade and Polk were second with six each. Four persons died on the streets and highways of Orange and Hillsborough counties, while Marion and Alachua each counted three.

Counties which reported two fatalities for July included Charlotte, Manatee, Sarasota, Bay, and Walton.

The Patrol said that sixty-seven persons were killed in traffic accidents during July 1950.

Defense is your job, too!

Swabbing down their cruiser's forecastle deck or passing ammunition to her eight-inch guns, it's all in the day's duty for these young American seamen. Day or night, fair weather or foul, they're on the job, keeping our Navy the First Line of Defense—for America and for you!

But in these critical times, defense is your job, too. And one of the most important parts of that job is maintaining the economic strength of America, as the sailors are working to maintain her naval strength. How can you do that? By buying U.S. Defense Bonds!—buying them now and buying them regularly. So go to your pay office and join the Payroll Savings Plan or sign up at your bank for the Bond-A-Month Plan. But do it today!

The U. S. Defense Bonds
you buy give you personal financial independence

Remember that when you're buying Defense Bonds you're building a personal reserve of cash savings. Money that will some day buy you a home or educate your children, or support you when you retire. Remember, too, that if you don't save regularly, you can't save at all. So go to your company's pay office—now—and sign up to buy Defense Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own automatically goes on earning interest every year for 30 years from the date of issue instead of 10 years. This means that the bond you bought for $15.75 can now earn you just $25—but as much as $33.31 for a $37.50 bond. And so on. For a $37.50 bond, your security, and your country's, too, buy U. S. Defense Bonds now!

Teh pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters you contributed last year to the "Crusade For FREEDOM" have paid handsome dividends.

I have just been reading an official report of the operation of Radio Free Europe, independent radio station located in Munich. This powerful station, which your contributions made possible, is the "Voice of Freedom" that day after day out answers the Communist BIG LIE with the free world's This station is the most powerful in the world, 135,000 watts, and it penetrates far behind the Iron Curtain reaching Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria and Russia itself.

Its power and influence is more disturbing to the Kremlin than a dozen Armies, for its clear cut messages of TRUTH are giving hope and courage to millions enslaved in the captured countries, causing serious unrest and no end of trouble.

Correspondents located in almost every European country, report that satellite people are listening to these programs and advertising them by word of mouth. Escapes reaching Western Europe report that the programs are developing resistance to Communist overlords and a stream of letters smuggled through the curtain corroborate this information. Stomach Distress Is Gone After Ten Years of Suffering

BIGGER TRUTH.
Radio Moscow and "stooge" stations in captive countries. Every FREE program is opened with the clear tones of the Freedom Bell and listeners are informed that this is the TRUTH.

This Voice of Freedom is made possible by the voluntary contributions of over 15,000,000 American citizens in the 1950 Crusade for Freedom.

The station does not harangue listeners with dry, long-winded speeches, typical of the Communist stations, but intermingles convincing bits of TRUTH with music, drama and entertainment, point reminders that there is happiness, laughter and gaiety in the Free World.

Radio Free Europe differs from the Voice of America because it is an independent organization, supported voluntarily by public-spirited Americans. It is the FREE voice of a FREE people, exercising their traditional right of FREE SPEECH. It is a people-to-people communication rather than a government-to-people communication.

It can be direct, hard-hitting, detailed and aggressive. It deals in a large measure with what is going on right in the satellite countries; telling the people the truth about their puppet governments; telling them in voices of their own people speaking their own language.

Hundreds of former citizens of these captive countries have escaped from behind the Iron Curtain have broadcast messages back home to friends and neighbors, telling them of the truth and giving hope of freedom.

Abbott Washburn, Executive Vice Chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, recently described Radio Free Europe and what it accomplishes in this way: "The man in the Kremlin has reacted to these broadcasts with angry attitudes at refutation. They reveal their fear and their vulnerability to the TRUTH. They can be hit still harder and often as this Voice of freedom increases in strength. We are trying to make Radio Free Europe the kind of free radio that these nations would have within their borders, if it were possible for them to have freedom of speech."

The original Crusade for Freedom conducted a year ago made this station possible; it has proven its effectiveness and its influence, can be tremendously increased with the establishment of additional radio outlets and the development of more programs.

That is why it was decided to again appeal to freedom-loving Americans for their continued support through a 1951 Crusade for Freedom. With your help, TRUTH can be made to blast the Communist lie off the map. Millions of Americans making small contributions can forge a larger, more powerful weapon for this gigantic battle for men's minds.

Support the Crusade for Free. Help combat the Communist LIE with TRUTH. Help smash the Iron Curtain from within. IT CAN BE DONE.

RECEPTION EXPECTED FOR GLADES AREA

The Glades area should soon be getting more steady television service with normal antenna installations due to the operation of Miami station WTVJ at 5,000-watts peak transmitter input power.

This new power puts the station on par with all other major television stations throughout the country. Previously WTVJ was limited to 500 watts.

Brighter pictures and sharper picture definition can also be expected, according to John Shay, WTVJ's technical director. Much of the "noise" and line distortion caused by natural and local electrical interference should also be eliminated.

WTVJ has had a 5,000-watt transmitter since it first went on the air in 1949 but was caught by the FCC "freeze" before it could obtain a license to operate at that power.

The authorization of increased power will affect 12 other television stations around the country which have been operating at 500 watts. No station in the country is operating at more than 5,000 watts at the present time.

The power increase marks the first break in the "freeze" imposed by the FCC almost three years ago.

At 500 watts, WTVJ put out a signal of 1.1 kw aural and 2.2 kw video. Under the new power this will be increased to 8.25 kw aural and 16.5 kw video.

RDB TO PUBLISH C. BOOKLET BY NOV. 1

Booklets publicizing the tourist, agricultural, commercial and industrial attractions of the county, prepared by the County Resources and Development Board, will be ready for distribution by November 1 if comments for $60,000, the first printing, are received before September 1, Frank Frazar, Jr., RDB president, announced.

To be financed entirely by sales to cities, civic clubs and other organizations, the 36-page booklet contains no advertising.

Distribution is planned through chambers of commerce, city and county government bodies, trade and professional organizations, business firms, rail, air and steamship lines, AAA and through direct mail by RDB, using a mailing list furnished by Fla. State Advertising Commission.

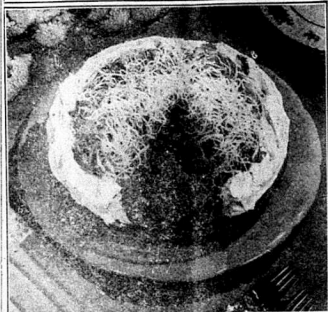

The RDB booklet committee, which completed plans for the booklet at a meeting Tuesday, consists of Bernard H. Cooley, chairman, J. R. Meschem, vice chairman, George W. Archer, William A. Heath, R. D. Hill, William P. Bobb, E. D. Hedrick, Robert M. Ricelli, S. P. Willis, Fairfax Poindexter, Lamar Allen and Ralph J. Blank.

Chamber of Commerce Asked To Help In Freedom Crusade

Local chambers of commerce throughout the state were urged to join forces with General Lucius D. Clay and the Crusade for Freedom in fighting Soviet Propaganda lies with truth.

Mid-Summer Dream

By BETTY BARCLAY

Take a tender morning stroll, fill it with luscious chocolate coconut ice cream, and there you have as dreamy a dessert as ever traced a mid-summer company dinner! What's more, it doesn't require a lot of time in an overheated kitchen. The American diet calls for a low-temperature oven, and the refrigerator takes over the filling.

It time saving is of first importance to you, then the filling can be your favorite pre-packaged ice cream from the store instead of the homemade variety. Ours do take time to add the delicate touch to it. It is at room temperature until soft enough to fold in 3/4 cup of melted coconut. There you are. At dessert time, fill morning and lunch with pride. Mmm! A mid-summer dream!

of the Greenwood Plan Committee of Greenwood, South Carolina. Objective of the plan is to develop America's towns, cities, and rural areas for ideas on how to spike Communist lies and promote world freedom and peace. Best ideas received will be broadcast on Radio Free Europe programs to the people imprisoned behind Stalin's Iron Curtain, Clay said.

In its invitation to the chambers of commerce, the Greenwood group suggested that local committees be formed to solicit from local residents any and all ideas they could contribute to the captive peoples the enlightenment of the free world.

All suggestions, the chambers were told, will supplement the current activities of the Crusade for Freedom, headed in Florida by Harold Coker of Jacksonville. It is anticipated that 25,000,000 Americans will enroll in the Crusade, with contributions exceeding $3,500,000 expected. The sole purpose of the Crusade for Freedom is to fight Communism with the truth and undermine the Red satellite regimes.

Chiselers Attempt To Cash In On Legion Convention

Police in several cities have been asked to assist in cracking down on chiselers attempting to cash in on the 33rd annual National Convention of the American Legion Oct. 15-18 in Greater Miami.

Jim Barney, Convention Service Committee Chairman, advised authorities that "boiler shop" activities and other unlawful attempts have been made to solicit funds and to sell decorations which infringe on official American Legion insignia.

All official representatives of the American Legion empowered to make contracts for the rental or sale of official decorations and to furnish decorators carry official identification cards," said Barney.

"Business men throughout the state should demand official Legion credentials before dealing with any solicitors.

Many Legion posts in other cities are reported decorating their post homes and other structures to welcome visiting Legionnaires enroute to and from the National Veterans' Conclave.

"We are delighted that Legionnaires in other cities are joining us as hosts to our visitors, but we will fight against anyone who attempts to cash in on the Legion emblem bootlegging," said Joe H. Adams, National Vice-Commander and Convention Corporation President. "No telephone solicitations are made by our representatives."

ACCIDENTS TAKE TOLL OF FLA. WORKMEN

Falls, falling implements, and motor vehicle accidents took their toll of lives of Florida workmen in July as thirteen of men struck by a crane boom. The manufacturing, governmental, and construction industries divided the major part of the accidents as nine of their workmen were numbered among seventeen. A pair of workers in each of the agricultural, retail trades, and public utilities industries died in accidents this month, while the mining and common carrier industries each lost one laborer.

Death had no preference in locality as usual, as the seventeen fatalities were reported from fourteen different communities with two in Daytona Beach, Tampa, and Miami.
